

WEEKS SENDS SENATE LETTER

Krupps Trying To Secure Patents in America.

ARE THREATENING AMERICAN RIGHTS

Bill Repealing Guaranty Provisions of Transportation Act Is Submitted.

Washington, April 25.—The Krupps, Germany's biggest munition makers, are seeking to secure patents on ordnance in this country and are otherwise threatening an infringement of American rights. Secretary of War Weeks stated in a letter addressed to the senate today.

Weeks urged "corrective legislation" not only to protect the American military establishment, but American munition makers. He also advocated similar legislation to protect the American dye-stuffs industry.

Bill Submitted.

Washington, April 25.—A bill repealing the provision of the transportation act which directs the interstate commerce commission to make rates guaranteeing a return of six per cent. to the carriers, was introduced in the senate today, by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas.

The bill "also makes explicit the intent of congress not to encroach upon the jurisdiction of the state to regulate their purely internal commerce" and "nullifies the order of the commission previously made, so far as they affect interstate rates," Senator Capper explained.

To Name Clifford.

Washington, April 25.—President Harding is expected to send the name of Edward P. Clifford, of Evanston, Illinois, to the senate, tomorrow, as an assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of war risk insurance and the public health service. It was learned at the White House, today, that Clifford has been one of the leading candidates for appointment as internal revenue commissioner.

Nominations.

Washington, April 25.—President Harding, today, sent to the senate the following nominations:

To be solicitor for the department of labor, Theodore C. Riley, of Illinois.

To be assistant attorney general, Robert H. Lovett, Illinois.

To be assistant secretary of interior, Frank M. Goodwin, Spokane, Washington.

A Resolution.

Washington, April 25.—Railroad companies would be prohibited from paying any of their officials more than $15,000 annually, without the consent of the interstate commission, under a resolution introduced in the house, today, by Representative Black, Texas.

The interstate commerce commission could, however, agree to a higher salary when "compatible with public interest."

To Help Mines.

Washington, April 25.—To prevent the closing of gold mines because of inability to operate at a profit, a premium of $10 an ounce would be paid by the government under the terms of a bill introduced in the house, today, by Representative McFadden, of Pennsylvania.

The bill also provided an excise tax of five cents per pennyweight of fine gold in manufacturers, to be used to pay the premium.

Home Building.

Washington, April 25.—To encourage home building, exemption from income taxation on mortgages not in excess of $50,000 on apartment houses and dwellings, is proposed in a bill introduced in the house, today, by Representative Hutchinson, New Jersey.

To Stay in Service.

Washington, April 25.—Thousands of Chinese seamen will continue to serve on American ships, under a "liberal" interpretation of the language-test clause of the seamen's act, by a decision announced by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, today.

Secretary Hoover said he had declined to accede to requests filed by the International Seamen's union for such a strict interpretation of the act as would have the effect of barring most of the Chinese from America, because of inability to speak English fluently. Secretary Hoover said the shipping situation on the Pacific is "desperate" because of Japanese competition and that the situation would be aggravated by a departure from present methods followed by navigation and customs officers.

AN EXHIBIT FILED BY RAILROAD UNIONS

Large Sums Paid in Bonuses to Stockholders, Claimed by Workers.

Chicago, April 25.—Financial mismanagement of American railroads, involving the dissipation of tremendous sums in bonuses to stockholders, unnecessary cost of marketing securities, interest and dividends on excess capitalization and other losses, was charged in an exhibit filed with the United States railroad labor board by the railroad unions and made public here.

The exhibit took up the history of 20 roads in an effort to show that they issued fictitious capitalization during the period 1910-1919 totaling $602,000,000. During this time it was also claimed that they issued bonuses or stock dividends amounting to $233,559,000, and through other forms of financial mismanagement sustained losses amounting to $123,000,000. In addition it was claimed that 13 representative roads, during the period referred to, dissipated, through improper methods of marketing their securities, the sum of $1,456,878.

"During the period from 1910 to 1919, 13 railroads gave away in bonuses to stockholders the sum of $27,651,051," according to the report. "These figures are merely illustrative of the financial practices which have affected the ability of the railroads to pay reasonable rates of compensation to their employees."

Proves an Alibi.

Columbus, April 25.—Harry Webb, twenty-six, produced an alibi and was released from jail. He had been arrested as a suspect in the case of Samuel Heid, well-known saloon keeper, murdered here a few days ago. A few hours later, however, Webb was rearrested on a charge of assault. Blaming T. J. Yeager for having told Sheriff Holycross where he could be found, Webb landed an uppercut which broke Yeager's jaw.

Market Strong.

New York, April 25.—The stock market opened strong, today, under the lead of oil shares. They were influenced favorably by another advance of twenty-five cents a barrel for Pennsylvania crude oil. The steel issues, also, displayed strength while the railroad groups dragged.

PARALYZED, SEEKS TO MODIFY COURT ORDER

Charles J. McClenathan Says Wife Has Earning Capacity.

MRS. ALBERT MAGNUS DIVORCE PLAINTIFF

Married in 1911 and Have One Child—Trial of $10,000 Case Is Begun.

A motion to modify the former order of the court in order to relieve the defendant from any further payments toward the support of a minor child has been filed in the common pleas court by the defendant in the case of Harriet M. McClenathan. The plaintiff was granted a divorce from the defendant June 5, 1916, and the defendant ordered to pay $25 a month for the support of children.

May 1, 1917, this amount was reduced by the court to $20 a month. One child is now sixteen years of age and the other still under sixteen.

The motion states the defendant had a stroke of paralysis June 4, 1920, and is unable to work. It also sets up that the mother is working as a clerk at the Warner & Edwards store and is earning sufficient money to support the daughter. The motion was filed through DeGallay & DeGallay.

Suit for $650.

Suit for $650 was filed in the common pleas court, Saturday afternoon, by the S. Howes Company, incorporated, against the Felt Medicated Salt company. The petition was filed through C. C. Fisher.

The plaintiff company charges that August 13, 1920, it sold and delivered to the defendant a piece of machinery for $650, which the defendant agreed to pay for within thirty days after date of invoice. August 30, 1920. The petition states that no part of the money has been paid and the plaintiff asks judgment for the amount.

Suit in Partition.

Pearl Clark, through Attorney H. E. Hill, Saturday afternoon filed a partition suit in the common pleas court against Theodore R. Clark and Florence A. Clark, miners. The plaintiff represents that she is owner of an undivided one-third interest in part of Lot No. 27, in Marsh's second addition to Lakue, and that the defendants, her brother and sister, are each owners of one-fourth of the property. She asks that he interest be set off to her.

Magnus Divorce Suit.

Blanche M. Magnus, through Carhart & Warner, Saturday afternoon filed in the common pleas court a suit for divorce from Albert Magnus, alleging cross neglect. They were married January 15, 1911, and have one child.

While they were residing on Elm street, the petition alleges the defendant left the plaintiff, November 29, 1920, and has not returned excepting for an occasional visit to see their daughter. At one time when they lived in Toledo, the plaintiff charges the defendant owned a clothing store, but during the latter part of the war sold his interest and squandered the money. She states that on a court order, he has been paying eight dollars a week toward the support of the child. The plaintiff asks for divorce, alimony, custody of the child, and that the defendant be required to pay for the maintenance of the child.

Trial Is Begun.

Trial of the $10,000 damage suit of Daisy Bockstahler against Harley Shuey was begun before a jury in the common pleas court this morning. The case is the outgrowth of an accident September 8, 1920, at the corner of State and Quarry streets when the defendant's automobile is alleged to have struck the plaintiff.

It is expected that the case will reach the jury this afternoon.

L. F. Myers is attorney for the plaintiff and the defendant is represented by George T. Goran and J. W. Barry, of Mt. Pleasant.

Mouser has sustained the motion of the defense to set aside the decree of divorce granted the plaintiff in the common pleas court April 19 in the case of Nellie Arthur against Joseph Arthur. The statutes provide that a suit for divorce cannot be heard until six weeks after service is had and the hearing in this case was that a few days before the expiration of that period.

The court also granted the defense leave to file an answer. This pleading, setting up a general denial of the allegations of the petition, was filed through DeGallay & DeGallay.

LEGISLATURE TO RECONVENE

Ohio Solons Will Get Together This Evening.

SESSION MAY LAST INTO NEXT WEEK

Big Tax Problems and Appropriation Bills Must Be Given Needed Attention.

Columbus, April 25.—With taxation problems facing them and the big appropriation bills to be disposed of, members of the state legislature will reconvene here, this evening.

Although senate and house leaders will endeavor to comply with Governor Davis' request that the work of the session be completed this week, it was indicated that the legislators may have to hold over into next week.

Senate leaders are opposed to the fourth taxation resolution, pending in the house. On the other hand, the prediction has been made that the house will refuse to pass the taxation measure, pending in the senate, introduced by Senator Whittemore, Akron, Republican floor leader.

The fourth resolution, a compromise between house members supporting the uniform rule of taxation and those favoring classification of property for taxation purposes, seeks to separate tangible and intangible property and to prevent taxing intangibles less than five mills. The Whittemore resolution provides for an eighteen-mill tax levy in municipalities and a fifteen-mill levy outside municipalities.

The big biennial appropriation measure, now in the hands of the senate finance committee, is expected to be reported out in a day or two and referred to a joint conference committee because of the numerous changes made in the bill since it passed the house.

Wild Chase After SUPPOSED BANDITS

Innocent Quartet Landed in Columbus Prison Today.

Columbus, April 25.—An automobile sped toward Columbus through the main street of a village some miles west of here. Federal agents noted a young woman, with a handkerchief bound around her head, leaning back on the rear seat and a couple on the front street.

An alarm was sounded. Like wild-fire spread the report that automobile bandits had bound and gagged a girl and were making way with her.

Village residents most of here were thrilled as they noted the speeding car was being followed by sheriff's deputies, town marshals, village constables and other pursuers.

Caught at a railroad crossing here, it was found that a young man was seated with the handkerchief-banded girl. The quartet was taken to police headquarters.

They were released, however, when it was found that the bandaged girl, Miss Mary Gray, nineteen, had fainted. Her companions were Earl Long, Miss Margaret Belton and Oda Johnson.

Miss Tallett is cashier of one of the Clark restaurants and was on her way to the bank to deposit the money, the receipts of Saturday night and Sunday.

Although the street was crowded with people, it was not until the woman screamed that the attention of any one was attracted. Waiting in a doorway near the bank, as the woman approached, one covered Miss Tallett with a revolver, while the other seized the bag. The thugs then dove into the passing crowd, crossed the street and escaped.

C. A. Schroeder, of No. 417 east Center street, was dismissed Sunday from the City hospital. He was last discharged one week ago from a heart ailment.

WILL FILE CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Coroner's Finding in Columbus Automobile Accident.

Columbus, April 25.—Coroner Murphy has announced his intention of preferring charges of manslaughter, on two counts, against John B. Acawalt, held in the city prison hall as a result of the deaths of Miss Helen Winkelhausen and Donald C. McCleary, whose skulls were crushed in an automobile accident here, Sunday morning.

"Acawalt tells me he was drinking beer and other witnesses have said that he was driving at a rate of fifty miles an hour, or more. Under these circumstances, I can do no less than charge him with manslaughter," declared the coroner.

Miss Winkelhausen, Mr. McCleary, Miss Lucille Huey and Carl Bornemann were being driven downtown by Acawalt when a wheel on Acawalt's car broke down while rounding a curve on the Fourth street viaduct. Sliding 100 feet, the car crashed into the concrete side of the bridge.

MURDER TRIAL OPENED TODAY

Indiana Man Charged with Slaying Parents.

CHARRED BODIES IN RUINS OF FARM HOUSE

Case Arouses Great Interest at Enos, Indiana, Where the Victims Lived.

Reensselaer, Indiana, April 25.—Ralph Davis, thirty-four-year-old farmer, was to go on trial here, today, for the murder of his aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis. Their charred bodies were found in the ruins of their farm house at Enos, Indiana, January 21.

Citizens of two Indiana counties are sharply divided in their sentiment toward Davis and the trial has aroused unusual interest. Davis, who is married and has two children, lived on a farm adjoining that of his parents. He was treasurer of the Newton County Farm bureau. He originally was arrested in a hotel in Chicago, on a warrant charging him with embezzlement of $1,452 of the funds of the bureau. He declared he had taken the money to buy a prize bull.

After Davis' arrest in Chicago, it was learned that two secret indictments charging him with the murder of his parents had been voted against him. It was learned that the condition of the bodies of Davis' parents revealed that many bones had been broken and the head of Mrs. Davis was found fifteen feet from where the body lay beside that of her husband. Although the first is believed to have started while the aged couple were in bed, authorities said that both were found, after the fire, to have been fully dressed. Davis was said to have quarreled with his father because of the latter's refusal to help him out of financial difficulties.

A truss your size may not fit you. If it only touches you at the nape, and a few places in the back, any number of movements will displace it. A proper truss, properly fitted, will stay where it belongs and do its work. If it fits you, you may cough, sneeze, stretch your limit upward or stoop down and it will ride you like a cowboy does a bucking broncho and you can't displace it.

Does your truss stay put? Does it always hold the rupture? Is it always comfortable? If not you will do well to see Mr. Johnson at Hensley and Cooper's. This is his last week.

RAILROAD BUSINESS IS GRADUALLY PICKING UP

Some of the Crows Taken Off Put on Again.

TIE AND RAIL BREVITIES
PICKED UP IN THE YARDS

Summer Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Is Put into Use Saturday.

Business on the various railroads running through the city has been gradually increasing during the past couple weeks, and some of the roads have taken on some of the crews that had to be laid off earlier in the year. The increase on the east and west roads is particularly noticeable at the smaller stations, while the opening of the lake traffic has helped to increase the business on the north and south roads.

The summer station of the Pennsylvania, just south of Center street, was put into use, Sunday, and will continue to be used as a stopping place for passenger trains. By the plan the trains will not block the Center street crossing and will suffer no delay for loading and unloading by reason of not being able to get the block.

WELL, APRIL GENERALLY COMES INTO ITS OWN

After a Heroic Struggle Against Heavy Odds.

Outdoor excursions and pastimes planned for Sunday were staged as planned without interference from June. There were clear skies and summer weather Sunday and today.

After several days of rain and gloom Old Sol finally broke the "ice" and spread his golden rays over the land. The gloom was dispelled as the temperature climbed up where it ought to climb in this climate. Many people took long walks and visited the parks, while many more enjoyed spins in their automobiles or the automobiles of their friends.

Have you heard the spring bird chorus just before the wake of day in the wooded cathedrals about Marion? Robin Redbreast seems at this time to be singing the principal solo parts at twilight's dawn. Nature fakers or "lazy bones" can never appreciate this early festival of song. Listen for it; it's worth while.

Father John Kelly, of Cincinnati, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Lawler was attended by Miss Regina Tynor, as bridesmaid and Mr. Joseph Lawler, cousin of Mr. Lawler, served as best man. During the ceremony Miss Kathryn Burke played several violin selections accompanied on the organ by Robert Thompson.

The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit and her flowers were a corsage of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Tynor wore a brown suit and a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Lawler is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kelly, of No. 407 east Church street. The groom has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. James J. McElroy, of No. 234 Chestnut street, and is employed as a bookkeeper with the Prendergast Lumber company.

Both St. Mary's graduates.

Both are graduates of St. Mary's parochial school and are popular in the city's younger social circles.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, covers being laid for sixty relatives and immediate friends. The couple left for a ten-day wedding trip to Chicago. On their return they will make their home on Summit street. Out-of-town guests in attendance at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clement Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. John Lawler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Gallen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawler, Mrs. John Lawler and daughter, Betty; Mrs. Mary McNee and Mrs. Joseph O'Shaughnessy, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Durbin, of Lima; Mr. and Mrs. John Sells, of Akron; Miss Irene Kelly, of New York City, and Miss Nona Kelly, of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Emptage, enroute from Cleveland to Columbus to make their future home, left Saturday for Columbus after a visit here with Mr. Emptage's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emptage, of Olney avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reynolds, of this city, have returned from a three-weeks visit with Mr. Reynolds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reynolds, of Ironton.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Annual Thanksgiving.
The annual thanksgiving services of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of Epworth M. E. church, were held Sunday morning. Dr. Jesse Swank preached a missionary sermon and a collection was taken for the society, amounting to over $150.

Twenty-five were taken into the church and twelve were baptized Sunday. The attendance at Sunday school was 1,121 and the other services of the day were largely attended.

Missionary Day.
Missionary day was observed with a combined service of the church and Sunday-school Sunday morning at Calvary Evangelical church. Mrs. Frank Ahrft gave a reading, "The Story of the Little Red Bus," and the pastor, Rev. C. L. Allen, delivered a sermon appropriate to the day. "Child Welfare" day will be observed at the church next Sunday.

Banner Day.
Yesterday was the banner day in the history of the Memorial church, the attendance in the Bible school being 495. During the Sunday-school hour E. W. Owen sang "The Light of the World is Jesus." "The Shepherd and His Sheep" was the sermon subject of Earl Holliday during the preaching hour. At the close of the morning service the church granted Mr. Holliday a license to preach. Mr. Owen sang "The Holy City" at this service. Nine members were received into the church at the morning service.

A responsive service was held in the evening, the readings of the pastor, Rev. F. E. Hayes, being responded to by the choir. Mrs. A. G. Adnette sang a solo, "Holy Ghost with Light Divine." The service was attended by a capacity house.

Memorial Class.
The members of the Sunbeam class, of the Junior department of the Central Christian church, were entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Frank, of Bellefontaine avenue. Plans were made for a membership contest between the girls and boys to close in June when the losing side will entertain the winners with a fishing trip. The afternoon was passed with games and contests.

"Child Welfare" Day.
"Child Welfare" day was observed Sunday morning at Salem Evangelical church with an appropriate sermon by the pastor, Rev. D. H. Morris.

Child welfare week will be observed generally throughout the city and county this week. The pastors of the churches of the county have arranged for speakers to talk on the work which has developed into a continent-wide movement for better training for children and youth.

Leaders' Class.
The members of the Leaders' class, of Salem Evangelical church, met Sunday afternoon at the home of Clarence Polter, of east George street. The award in the garden-pond selling contest was won by Raymond Travis. The money will be applied to the church building fund.

JOB HUNTING IS EASY OVER IN RUSSIA

Workers Not Free To Pick Out Their Own Jobs.

LABOR PARTY FORMED THROUGH CONSCRIPTION

Workman Joins Up with Soviet Worker Like Taking Out Union Card.

Herewith is printed the first of a series of six articles by J. Herbert Duckworth, distinguished American correspondent, who broke into soviet Russia without passports, by crawling under the barbed wire on the Estonian-Russian frontier and dodging the Red guards. In this series, Duckworth deals purely with the human interest side of experiences he encountered.

[By J. HERBERT DUCKWORTH.]
Copyright 1921 by Select Features Company.

After a forbidden and somewhat adventurous visit to Red Russia, which terminated in capture by the Bolsheviks and imprisonment in the verminous dungeon of the Chresvetchaika in Moscow, I am at last back in the good old United States.

Believe me, after what I have seen of Bolshevism as it really is, not the side of Bolshevism that is shown invited investigators, it is fine to return to a land where it is possible to get three square meals a day, a bath and a smoke.

It seems queer to be permitted once again to roam the streets without being held up every hour by a Bolshevik fly cop. It is good to see stores open and smiling shoppers. It is good to feel really free, though I must not murder my neighbor, preach the overthrow of the government or carry a flask on my hip.

He Finds Out. I set off for Russia to find out for myself whether it was really true that over there the workers, having smashed the capitalist system, were living in a sort of paradise.

Well, I found out. To begin with I discovered that the easiest place in the world in which to get a job is Bolshevik Russia. And many of the jobs are the softest on earth, for a soviet worker gets his pay envelope handed to him regularly whether the plant is running or not. And as a good "paid-up Bolshevik," he also gets extra food rations for himself and family, to say nothing of a monthly allowance of cigarettes or tobacco.

This sounds fine on paper-like a lot of other things in the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet republic, but as I found out, it doesn't mean much, if anything.

These are the three classes into which the populations of Moscow, Petrograd and other big cities are divided:

(1) The privileged class, composed of Communist party workers, Chinese, Lettish and other mercenary troops, and the Soviet bureaucracy in general; daily food ration, three-quarters of a pound of bread and sometimes sugar.

(2) Members of compulsory labor units; daily food ration, one-half pound of bread and some times sugar.

(3) The so-called bourgeoisie—capitalists, small shopkeepers and the "white collar class"—and those who refuse to join official Soviet organizations; daily food ration, less than one-quarter pound of bread. Sugar is never given to them.

Self-Preservation. Nearly everybody in Bolshevik Russia is naturally a soviet worker. It is that or certain death from starvation unless you still have valuables to exchange for bread or decide to go in for speculation, that is illicit trading. By the way, over 350,000 men, one-third of the population of Moscow, which has decreased fifty per cent, since 1917, are "officials" of the soviet regime! These are the wise fellows who climbed into the Bolshevik bandwagon early.

Let's suppose you are a skilled mechanic in Moscow and have become a soviet worker. This is about the life you will lead:

You will carry on your clothes about fifteen different papers such as your identification card, an army exemption certificate, a passport, and documents to prove that you are a communist worker, reside in such a house on such a street in such a district.

When You're Stopped. Some of these will be forged. Without forged papers life is impossible. It will be dangerous, say, Something Cooling Antiseptic, Makes Walking Easy.

25c
Schmidt Pharmacy
Schmidt Says So.

to make a trip to another part of the city. You carry these papers in different pockets, so when you are stopped on the street by Red Guards, as you will be many times a day, you will go to a particular pocket for a particular paper that will save you from being imprisoned, or perhaps shot for being where, according to the Bolsheviks, you shouldn't be.

You have not been free to pick your job. You were ordered to report at a certain factory. You may get tired of the job, but you can't quit and go somewhere else. That's against Bolshevik rules.

In fact, if you are unfortunate enough to be assigned to a shop devoted to the manufacture of army supplies, you will find yourself virtually a prisoner. The factory will be enclosed with barbed wire, and armed guards will prevent you from going outside even to visit your family. You will work, eat and sleep at the factory.

It's a Nice Life. Then one fine day, you may be ordered to pack up your few belongings and proceed perhaps to Petrograd. Your wife and children will be left behind. It may be weeks before they learn of your departure. And a month before, when you asked to be transferred to, let's say Tulsa, where your parents live, you were turned down flat.

Maybe while you are away, your wife will be conscripted into the labor army. She may be set to sweeping the streets, collecting garbage or cleaning out the barracks of the Red army or soviet government offices.

After all I had read before leaving the states of the reverential regard the Bolsheviks had for women, it certainly shocked me to see gangs of old women, old enough to be grandmothers, cleaning the streets of Moscow. This kind of work was never before done by women, at least in the big cities.

Thousands of women have been drafted into the labor army the last two years, separated from their children, and sent hundreds of miles from their homes. Their children are being taken care of in soviet orphanages where they are brought up to be good little Bolsheviks.

I heard of one case of a woman who hid her children in a bath-room for one year so afraid was she that her children might be taken from her.

The Bolsheviks when they first came into power promised the workers "freedom." They kept this promise. Freedom to the ignorant workers of Russia meant loafing, or refusal to work at all.

Here's Where They Failed.

After murdering or driving out of the country their engineers and other skilled men "because they drew big pay for doing nothing but drink tea, talk and read the newspapers," the workmen attempted to run the industries themselves. They cut the working down in successive and rapid steps from twelve to four hours, with an hour off to discuss politics!

Without competent heads to guide them, with machinery wrecked by the workers who had sold all copper parts to "speculators," and with thousands of men at mills that had raw material and could operate refusing to work "because men in other industries were drawing pay for doing nothing," it is no wonder the "economic life," as the Russians call it, went to pot.

Then the labor army was formed. Men were conscripted into this by the hundreds of thousands. In Pskov I accidentally got dragged into a "volunteer labor gang" that had been "invited" to go out and put to a busy day on one of the frequent "working holidays."

Reporter Imprisoned. The "volunteers" were marching down the Sergiyevskaya when one of the employees of the Hotel Dalmat, who was in the party, laughingly signaled to me to get into line. I did so. We walked about three miles to a big railroad yard where for six hours we carried steel rails. The men tried at first to make a joke of the job, but it was very evident before the day was over that they were not very much stuck on this phase of communism.

A young reporter in his story of the "holiday" the next day in the Bolshevik paper, had the nerve to tell the truth as to what the people of Pskov had thought about the day of forced labor. He even called the whole business chornaya rabota—black work.

This was too much for Commissar Antonoff, secretary-chairman of the communist party for the province. The young, inexperienced Bolshevik cub reporter was hauled before the revolutionary tribunal and sentenced to one month's imprisonment. That would teach him about the freedom of the press. I know this reporter well. His name was M. Kazhok.

Yes, it is pretty easy to get a job in Red Russia. And if you can't find one for yourself, then a regimental commissar of the labor army will pick you up and get one for you.

WARNING

To Buyers of Heating Plants

There are makeshift imitations of the CalorC Pipeless Furnace on the market that are offered at seemingly low prices, with the advice that engineering service is no more needed for installing than when you set up a stove.

You may wisely beware of such advice, which can only lead to your disappointment and loss.

The CalorC is today the most popular heating plant in the world—a proven success in over 125,000 homes—and sold on the written Guarante-tee of the buyer's satisfaction or his money back. CalorC Engineering Service is one of the vital factors in this wonderful success.

To supply uniform heat throughout the building, the pipeless furnace must be installed with scientific accuracy in relation to air circulation in the particular building to be heated. And no one, unless thoroughly experienced in pipeless heating, can accurately plan such an installation.
CalorC Engineers made pipeless heating successful—and the service of these engineers is yours without charge to insure the correct application of pipeless heating in your own building.

The CalorC is scientifically designed for pipeless heating—and time has proven that its patents are basic essentials to highest heating efficiency.
Protect your own interests by getting the genuine CalorC. Bring or send a rough sketch of your floor plans, and we'll show you engineers' blue prints of CalorC installation in your home. No cost and no obligation to you.

Determined Fight of Railways
Drives 'Em to Turnpikes.

MORE "WEARIES" ON ROAD
THAN IN MANY YEARS

Twelve Ask for Handouts at One
Farm House Last Week—A Woman's Experience.

Hoboes are again becoming numerous. Determined efforts of railway companies to break up the practice of men beating their way on trains are meeting with success, judging by the number of "wearies" that are taking to the turnpikes. Instead of riding sidelong past mans, the rods and the mud bays, they are now making the ties or sitting the rails out the man-jures are taking to the wagon roads and begging rides. More hoboes than for many years are now on the road, according to authorities. In one week twelve hoboes stopped at a farm house south of the city and asked for "handouts." One day last week three hoboes stopped at the home of Glen Gillespie at Agona. Mrs. Gillespie and thirty-five thousand fans shared two children, one her nephew and the other her son. The boy, George Kelly, who is now in the state prison, some ten years old, was the only one of the group who was not a hobo.

After passing on the road for some time, Kelly, who is now in the state prison, some ten years old, was the only one of the group who was not a hobo.

In Good Shape.

Summit, New Jersey, Apr. 25.—(Special Jersey Star) Jack Dempsey is going to be in as a fiddle when he goes to the ring at Jersey City, N. J., on Sunday, July 3, at Jersey City. The world's champion is going about his preparations to start real training in the right way. He is taking the life of a country gentleman over here at Fred. Welton's health farm. He looks fine and says he never felt better. "This is sure an idea," he says, "to get a good rest and I am working just 'right' as I said today. I don't intend to start real training for several weeks. I'm just going to enjoy the open air, play golf and take naps on the road for about a fortnight more."

AKES CARE OF 5 CHILDREN

rs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mass—"I suffered continually with backache and was often dependent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it, and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief using it. My back is much better and I can sleep well. I keep around and have the care of five children. My work is very trying and I am very glad I have found the Compound in a help. I recommend it to my friends and I wish to use this letter as evidence to help any woman suffering as I was until I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

MAUDE E. TAYLOR, 5 St. James St., Roxbury, Mass.
Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to come it by heroic endurance, but rely on Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER
by Judd Mortimer Lewis
Illustrations by Edna Lewis

We had Daniel in the lion's den at Sunday-school yesterday, but it was not so exciting as it would be if he and Jubilee had been in there with him. On the picture card there was only three lions, and Daniel did not do anything to them and they did not do anything to him. They do not look like they knew he was there. I bet they would of known me and Jubilee was there. I would of said to the fellows inside that what I had to be in there I might as well be doing something, and if they would hand me a bunch of bricks and a whip I would show them, and then I bet business would have begun to pick up in that lion's den. If any of them did it jump when I told him to I would say to Jubilee to go and get him, and I bet if Jubilee went to his tail he would do the rope I pull him up by he would of had them setting up and begging in less than no time. The way to do with three lions when you are in the den with them is to give them a kick in the shins and when they see you ain't afraid of them they will lay down and roll over.

When school let out yesterday we went to Banty's whose father is a painter and there was the widest and smoothest board there any of us ever saw which he had got to paint a sign on. We put one end of it on the ground and the other end up on the landing in front of the upstairs to the paint shop where we found it, and drove a spike through it so it would not slip off and then we slid down it. But it did not slide very easy, so Banty tried to get in the house to get some lard, but it was locked up because everybody was gone away, so we all went to the store with him where his mother trades and he got two pounds of butter and put on the board and when we had got it rubbed in good with the seats of our pants it slid pretty good. Then we made it up at we would all slide down at once, and I got

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE PITCHER PLANT.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]
[Copyright 1921, by the Mc Clure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"Don't be late, will you, Uncle Wiggily," called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy to the rabbit gentleman, as he hopped out of the front yard of the hollow stump bungalow one morning. "Late for what?" asked Mr. Longears with a low and polite bow of the little red cap he wore. For he was going off into the woods to look for an adventure that day, and he thought his tall, silk hat might be caught on a bramble briar bush. So he wore a cap. "Do you mean don't be late for the hollow stump school?" asked the bunny rabbit, twinkling his pink nose. "No, I mean don't be late for supper."

"Late for supper?" asked Mr. Longears with a low and polite bow of the little red cap he wore. For he was going off into the woods to look for an adventure that day, and he thought his tall, silk hat might be caught on a bramble briar bush. So he wore a cap. "Dull, aching pains, gastritis, nausea and bloating were his daily portion. Dr. Croco overcame these pains and made him feel full of vim, vigor, vitality and energy. Dr. Croco now sells at old price."

It is a conceded fact that most diseases of the human body have their beginning in the stomach. When the food lies there in partly digested state, fermentation sets up all the stomach with foul gases, causing griping, nausea, a choking feeling and nervousness. The bowels become constipated, the liver fails to secrete as it should and one after the other of the organs become involved. It is just cases of this kind which need the assistance of Dr. Croco, the great herbal tonic to help the stomach carry on its work. "No longer do I suffer as I once did for Dr. Croco has done a world of good," said Mr. J. W. Lupton, who lives at 152 Dix Ave., Marion, Ohio. "Dull pains attacked me after eating. Gastritis was ever present and I became nauseated and bloated. I was lucky enough to hear about Dr. Croco and have experienced wonderful relief by taking the grand medicine. I never fear eating anything I crave for the gas does not appear nor these aching pains on my stomach. I eat heartily and my stomach takes care of it. My nerves are quiet so that I sleep well. My bowels act regularly and my liver has been cleared off. Dr. Croco is wonderful and I gladly praise it for what it has done for me." All good druggists sell Dr. Croco and it is highly recommended in Marion by The Retail Store, and in Prospect by Osborn & Son—Adv.

very much surprised. "From the pitcher plants," answered Mr. Toad. "I heard it, and the leaves of the pitcher shaped as they are, just like a pitcher, held the water. I come here every morning for a flower bath. Guess I'll take another. One is hardly enough."

"Pitcher plants certainly are useful," said Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped on. "I'll get out some around my bungalow."

"Look as he did for an adventure that day, the bunny found none, and much disappointed he turned back toward home. As he reached it he saw Nurse Jane come out, looking very much surprised. "Oh, Uncle Wiggily," cried the muskrat lady. "What do you think? I haven't a single pitcher in the bungalow, and my party on pins will soon be here. I haven't a pitcher for cream, milk and eggs for water to wash my face with, and I don't want to ask her for it."

"Dear me," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "No pitchers in the bungalow? Where is our cut glass one?" "Mrs. Stubbins the lady bear borrowed that and hasn't brought it back. I don't want to ask her for it."

"No certainly not," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "But where is the white china pitcher?" "Mrs. Bushytail the squirrel lady borrowed that."

"Well, where is the little brown jug we use for molasses, Nurse Jane?" "Jackie Bow Wow, the pup dog boy, came over to get that yesterday for his mother and she hasn't sent it back," answered the muskrat lady. "Do you expect your lady time, Uncle Wiggily, to hop to the five and ten-cent store and get some pitchers in a hurry before the company comes?"

"I can do better than that," the bunny answered. "Off he hopped to where Mr. Toad had taken his shower bath."

"Will some of you pitcher plants kindly let me take you to my hollow stump bungalow?" asked the bunny. The pitcher plants nodded their heads to say that they would. Then Uncle Wiggily picked as many as he needed and Nurse Jane filled some with milk, some with cream and some with molasses. And every one at her tea party said: "What lovely pitchers!" And Nurse Jane was happy. So this teaches us that many wonderful things grow in the wood.

Praises Them To His Friends. Backache is a symptom of weak or disordered kidneys. Stiff and painful joints, rheumatic aches, sore muscles, puffiness under the eyes, are others. You need not suffer. Ben Richardson, Wingrove, W. Va., writes: "I praise Foley Kidney Pills because they sure have helped me." Sold everywhere—Adv.

"THE KID"

per," went on Nurse Jane with a smile that made her pretty whiskers curl. "I am going to have a few friends for tea—Mr. and Mrs. Wibblywhobble Grandpa Goosey Gander, Uncle Butler, the goat, and others I thought you'd like to be here."

"I shall!" answered Uncle Wiggily. "I'll be back in time for your tea party, Nurse Jane."

Then Mr. Longears hopped away, over the fields and through the woods to look for adventure. He had not gone very far, and he was sort of scooting under a bush, and feeling glad that he had not worn his tall hat when, all of a sudden, he saw an old toad gentleman hopping along. "Good morning Mr. Toad," said Uncle Wiggily. "Where are you going?" "I am going to take my shower bath," answered Mr. Toad. "I always take a shower bath this time of day."
